Listen man i know i'm a good stepping stone for your political career. And i get my hostility to these scumbags are costing you opportunities for your political career. It would be so much easier if i just got on board with these grisly people and stopping getting in the way of your ambitions.

- You joined GB PAC - for your own career - and got your own hassle from Claire. All i did was tell her to fuck off and stop trying to prostitute either of us. You left it yourself. I never wanted anything to do with GB PAC and never agreed to work with them.
- You got yourself caught by HNH for posting that anime shit all over your Twitter. I stood up for you over email and in print, and you got a whole world of podcast appearances for the articles I WROTE - for your career. It's back again now i saw earlier, in limited form.
- You got us into the Jake situation by bringing in a guy who has been publicised as a "fascist" to get an interview at PI, and he then retracted his article to make us look stupid. Then you paid him money - for your own career. I never wanted anything to do with PI or Jake. When did i get a say in that, exactly?
- The TellSomeone project was helping you get into Restore for your career - and they ignored it. I never wanted anything to do with Restore, other than to get them the tech. That's why i worked on it for free.
- You decided this weirdo sperg Andre was going to be the third wheel and in charge of god knows what without even asking me about any of it. I've told you no countless times and you've totally ignored me. Because he's dangled some cash at you which could help your career. I never wanted anything to do with this guy and never agreed to work with him. There isn't any "work together." He hasn't done any work. It's imaginary.
- I didn't sign up for the political suicide of mass-inviting people like Fraser Nelson into group chats of spergs.

My point is - i never signed up for any of this or to be a prostitute furnishing your career by stroking these people. We never even agreed on starting an LLC, let alone what it was to be called - that says it all, doesn't it? A charity, now? Is that for "us", or for you?

This isn't "we," or "us," it serves you. Frankly i sympathise with your missus about being put onto things without knowledge. I'm not saying that to be nasty: i genuinely share the same frustration. It feels like being a passenger in the Michael ride when i built the fucking car.

I do not have a "temper" for saying NO for the seventeenth time or reading screenshots of people sending insulting messages.

Don't get me wrong here: i'm supportive of your political career, and i appreciate your value. But i am not here to serve it, and i am not going to be a punchbag for you because you drag me into things with scumbags - who i happen to notice are scumbags and happily tell them they are. I know it would be easier if i didn't tell them that and ruin all the opportunities you're drumming up for yourself with them, even when they do revolting weird psychotic shit, but there we go.

What you do with that sperg guy is up to you. What i'd suggest is we get some form of paperwork in place to do with the R asap - anything - because I simply no longer trust the idea we're working together at all, other than when it suits your political career. I suspect if you do get a chunk of cash you'll drop me, and a few others, like a rock. I've told you NO about him, i'm telling you no again, and i am not taking a bunch of shit from you about it when you won't stop pushing it at me - after i keep saying no.

You might be prepared to deal with literally anyone or do anything to get what you want. I'll die homeless and poor before i prostitute myself for any of this shit.

I could sum it up like this. The Restorationist, and all the stuff i've built written like Afuera and the bills (outside Binca), has got you in with Habib, Farage, Downes, Pitt, Sargon, Dutton, to name but a few - and 35,000 readers a week. Are you on GB News off the back of my work, or not?

I'm fine with that. Just don't take the fucking piss.

This isn't about proving to me you spoke to the Cytora CEO or Andre being in Cyprus: it's about you putting my name on paperwork i didn't want to be on, and you/him trying to make me do things i don't want to do without my agreement and refusing to respect me - like the GCs Fraser Nelson doesn't want to be in.

Did i mention i'm moving house and don't want to have to deal with any of this shit, or get pornography on my phone (again) while some lunatic insults me about the R?
